

Join the conversation!

Register today at www.1000fom.org

New Metropolis Minnesota: Growing Together as a Region

Host Terri Thao, Nexus Community Partners

Panelists

- Susan Haigh, Chair of the Metropolitan Council
- Steve Devich, City Manager, City of Richfield
- Gary Cunningham, Northwest Area Foundation
- Rodolfo Gutierrez, Hispanic Advocacy and Community Empowerment through Research (HACER)
- Ahmed Jama, Eden Prairie Somali community advocate
- Chris Stewart, former Minneapolis School Board director

Featured speakers

- Myron Orfield, Institute on Race & Poverty
- Andrea Torrice, The New Metropolis filmmaker

Project Sponsors

McKnight, Surdna and Ford foundations • Torrice Productions

Advisory Organizations

Alliance for Metropolitan Stability • Housing Preservation Project • Institute on Race & Poverty • ISIAH • Metro Cities • Metropolitan Council • University of Minnesota • Urban Land Institute/Regional Council of Mayors

Wednesday, March 30, 2011

6:30 – 8:30 p.m.

Reception to follow

Bloomington Center for the Arts
1800 W. Old Shakopee Road
Bloomington, MN

Event is free and open to the public, but registration is required. Register online at www.1000fom.org

1000 Friends of Minnesota and Twin Cities Public Television present an evening forum featuring The New Metropolis, a documentary series on America's First Suburbs.

Join us for a cross-stakeholder dialogue on how the Twin Cities region can grow more equitably and sustainably. Hear from Metropolitan Council Chair Susan Haigh and other Twin Cities public officials and community activists who will bring a Twin Cities context to the national films.

1031 West 7th Street
St. Paul, MN 55102
www.1000fom.org
651.312.1000